

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

| ORIGINAL PROSE. | | ORIGINAL POETRY. | |
|--|-------|------------------------------------|-------|
| | PAGE. | | PAGE. |
| Pleasure | 2 | To Mira | 4 |
| Part of an Oration | 3 | Difference of opinion | 8 |
| Laurinda to Eliza | 5 | Syrena | 8 |
| Diversity of Opinion | 11 | Contentment | 12 |
| Indolence | 13 | William at the grave of Anna | 12 |
| Consistency in the works of nature | | Review | 12 |
| 'Teach man th' important lesson how to | | A tale | 16 |
| live' | 14 | Refignation | 16 |
| 'Know then this truth,' &c. | | Hope | 20 |
| Literary Workshop | | A wish | 24 |
| No. I. | 17 | To Mira | 28 |
| No. II. | 21 | Henry's Farewell | 32 |
| No. III. | 37 | To Damon | 39 |
| No. IV. | 51 | Solitude | 40 |
| No. V. | 62 | A hint to nobody | 44 |
| No. VI. | 67 | To Eugenio | 48 |
| Temperance | 17 | Scenes of childhood | 52 |
| Simonides letter to Senex | | To Mira | 60 |
| Senex's Answer | 18 | To Hermes | 64 |
| 'Tempus celeriter fugit' | | Winter | 68 |
| Influence of Prejudice | 21 | To my bible | 70 |
| History | 22 | Confolation | 71 |
| Study not superficially | 25 | Sweets of love | 72 |
| Influence of the Fine Arts | | The coquette | 76 |
| Atheism | 26 | To Syrena | 80 |
| Prosperity and Adversity | 30 | The rose | 84 |
| Man unhappy without revelation | | Spring | 88 |
| The Sweeper | 34 | Search of happiness | 92 |
| Parental Government | 37 | Ode to Souhegan | 95 |
| 'Commend not thyself,' | | Human life | 100 |
| Freedom necessary for literary improve- | | Sonnet to moonlight | 103 |
| ment | 37 | Love | |
| Concluded | 42 | Anticipations realized | |
| On studying the classics | 43 | A fragment | |
| A letter of condolence | 46 | To Electa | |
| Benevolence | 54 | First of May | |
| Christianity and infidelity | 55 | Sympathy | |
| Hope | 58 | To Maria | |
| Meanness of seeking popularity | 59 | A lady's naked bosom | |
| Existence of God proved from his works | 63 | A morning ramble | |
| Circumspection in speech | 69 | A fragment | |
| Female Education | 70 | To Sally | |
| Benevolence of Deity | 73 | Edwy and Amelia | |
| Immortality of the soul | 78 | Advice to a coquette | |
| Fame—the student's reward | 82 | The Oak | |
| Genius | 83 | Reflections on a Spider expiring | |
| Popular applause | 87 | The Beggar | |
| Religion | 91 | Death | |
| Application | 93 | What is virtue? Answered | |
| Disappointment | 97 | Lines to a female friend | |
| Virtue and science connected | 101 | | |
| Independency of spirit | 103 | | |
| Imagination | | | |
| Excuse for following the fashion | | | |
| Disorder of intellect | | | |
| True greatness, &c. | | | |
| Disimulation | | | |
| Literature | | | |
| Memory | | | |
| Liberty, a necessary support to science | | | |
| Modern Italy | | | |
| Study of Law | | | |
| Natural History | | | |
| System | | | |
| Superstition | | | |
| Passion and Prejudice | | | |
| Editor to his Patrons | | | |

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

| | PAGE. | | PAGE. | | PAGE. |
|--|-------|--------------------------------------|-------|--|-------|
| On life—a vision | 89 | Epode - - - - - | 20 | Aversions - - - - - | 64 |
| Extracts from Mr. Adams' Oration | | Pſalm 42d paraphrafed - - - - - | 24 | Jackdaw | |
| Mifcellaneous | 91 | Lines by M. Bruce - - - - - | 28 | Ode of Anacreon | 68 |
| Literary Notices | | Pleafure | | Art of criticifm | |
| Character of Hume's writings | 94 | Defpondency - - - - - | 32 | A pastoral ballad - - - - - | 72 |
| Morality - - - - - | | Ode to Mirth | | Continued - - - - - | 76 |
| On keeping the Lord's day - - - - - | 95 | Ad Amicos - - - - - | 36 | Eternity - - - - - | 80 |
| Mifcellaneous | | To his coy love | | Ode on the death of a cat | |
| Morality - - - - - | 98 | A Song | | Unity - - - - - | 84 |
| Idea of an eternal fucceffion of men refuted | | Another | | Spirituality - - - - - | 88 |
| Superftition | | The tears of Science - - - - - | 40 | A Maniac | |
| Extrication of inflammable air - - - - - | 99 | An Elegy | | Lines by a British Statesman - - - - - | 92 |
| Cure for the Dyfentary | | Lines by T. M. Harris - - - - - | 44 | Odes for Independence | |
| Mifcellaneous.—Literary Notices | | Winter Night | | Power of time | |
| Tender Melancholy - - - - - | 102 | Infcription - - - - - | 48 | Grandeur - - - - - | 96 |
| Sketch of the Character, &c. of A. D. | | Happinefs | | Conftancy in death | |
| Burns - - - - - | 103 | Falfe Bofoms | | Eulogy on Laughing | |
| Mifcellaneous | | An Ode - - - - - | 52 | Hymn | |
| SELECTED POETRY. | | Description of the fortunate Iflands | | Epiftle to T. Hill - - - - - | 100 |
| Ifaiah 49 paraphrafed - - - - - | 4 | Morning Hymn | 56 | Farmer's Boy | |
| Falfe Greatnefs | | Mufic | | Ruined Mary | |
| Wife, Children, and Friends - - - - - | 8 | Nature and Garrick - - - - - | 86 | Sonnet - - - - - | 104 |
| Juvenal's 10 Satire | 11 | Lydy's wifh | | The Rofe | |
| Continued - - - - - | 16 | An Ode | | Morning | |
| Concluded - - - - - | 24 | Power of Affection - - - - - | 60 | Epitaph | |
| A Song - - - - - | 12 | Verfes by Dr. Johnfon | | Reaping Song | |
| Another - - - - - | 20 | Description of a Poet | | A facetious Song | |
| To the Ocean - - - - - | 19 | The complaint | | The Dart.—Pale Lady | |